An Invention to Minimize the Risks Brakemen and Car-much interested in the forthcoming Confederate Reunion to be held in this city in Ma-June, and incidentally they

The stock market was generally dull yesterday. Richmondors who are in the habit of watching the ticker and the chalk-marks that ge on the black-board following the intenations of the telegraph instrument displayed only a languid interest in what was "doing."

The very first hulletin that came announced that te-day, being the anniversary of the birth of the Father of his Country, would be observed as a national holiday, and, coming this year so close upon the end of the week, would be made a double holiday in New York—that is to say, the Stock Exchange would be closed from last evening until Monday morning. This information naturally created a quiet which, for that matter, wo'd have been otherwise brought about, for there was nothing in the quotations to create interest or enthusiasm. All the stocks were dull, and the changes were on the fractional order, allowing little or no margin for speculation.

There was continued discussion in Richmond of the sharp break in Wabash preferred, which took place without any perceptible cause on Wednesday. It is preity generally understood that this break was due to a hitch in the supposed well-arranged financial plan of the management, and as this hitch can be cashly overcome, and perhaps has already been adjusted, the sharp decline in the nature of the case is only temporary. This view is backed up by the fact that the reports of Wabash's actual traffic are very encouraging. However, Wabash preferred this city in Ma-June, and incidentally they are advertising Richmond not a little. The passenger department of the Southern Pacific Railway, which has long lines and connections in Texas, are preparing what may be termed an "On to Richmond" foider. That detartment has applied to Captain C. W. Westbury, of the Southern Railway for photographs of Richmond historical scenes, and Captain Westbury has forwarded twenty or more, to be used to illustrate the foider. The indications are that the far South roads will send a vast army of people to this city to attend he reunion.

The rumer published in the local department of the Times-Dispatch yesterday morning to the effect that the white brakenen and flagmen of the Atlantic Coast Line will have their wages increased fifteen per cent after the first of March was one of the Items that may be labelled "important if true." There is no evidence that it is no official proof that it is. Inquiry at the Coast Line offices in this city vesterday revealed the fact that no official confirmation of the report hat been received so far. It is the general impression that an increase will ge, into effect on the first of March, but it is not believed that it will be as much as lifteen per cent. The offices here are also uncertain as to what depart-ports of Wabash's actual traffic are very encouraging. However, Wabash preferred was weaker yesterday than on the day before, and this in spite of the fact that the outlook for earnings on the line is as bright as it has been for many months past—even brighter than for the past three months.

The New York Stock Exchange closed yesterday afternoon to remain closed until Monday morning. To-day is the anniversary of the birth of George ments the increase will apply to, but the impression is that it will be general. until Monday morning. To-day is the anniversary of the birth of George Washington, and as such is a holiday. To-morrow is a half-holiday anyhow, and so taking the situation by and large, and considering the general duliness of things, it was deemed best to close up until Monday. A two days rest—three days, including Sunday—will bring the dealers on the market Monday in better trim for trading, and the indications are.

received from the sale of finance bills takes stock exchange collateral from the borrower. There is another kind of finance bills, and these are generally denominated sterling loans. In making such loans the drawers of the bills do not place them on the market themselves, but make the loan secure by stock exchange collateral, and instead of giving the borrower a check upon a New York bank for the account of his loan, dollver to him their long bills for the amount of pounds, france or marks. The borrower then sells the bill of exchange in the market. When his loan matures and becomes payable he must deliver to the length exchange or cable transfers for the amount of pounds, francs or marks sufficient to liquidate his indebtedness.
